FOREWORD

It is with great pleasure that we bring you this sale catalogue for what promises to be one of the most exciting and highly anticipated events in the Holstein calendar. On behalf of all of us involved in the sale, we very much look forward to welcoming you all to Boghill Farm on August 25th & 26th.

The last decade has seen huge change in terms of genetics in the Holstein breed. The introduction of genomic testing has totally re-shaped the way in which the industry approaches genetic gain, both in terms of females and males selected by the AI industry and, just as importantly, the way in which breeding decisions are made from an on-farm perspective. In recent years many of the large global AI companies have founded their own nucleus herds to pursue the highest testing animals, much of the time through vast investment in females and breeding programs. Only a handful of farmer owned and bred herds across the globe have been able to keep pace with the industry and none have been more effective than Boghill Glamour. The genetic heights achieved by this partnership, when you consider their humble beginnings, are quite extraordinary. Today, the herd has almost complete domination of the genomic rankings in the UK and Europe with many of the top animals going toe to toe with the global elite. Their decision to make the herd available for sale brings about an opportunity for farmers and breeders alike that may never be seen again. Never before have this number of animals at such a high genetic level been offered for sale.

The McCollum family have resided at Boghill for numerous generations with a farming history that spans into the 1800s with cows being milked on the farm for much of that time. Today the farm and herd are taken care of by Morrell McCollum and his wife Edith. The decision was made some forty or so years ago to register cattle as pedigree under the Boghill prefix with the emphasis on type, production and solid cow families, the same principles that still shape the herd and its breeding to the present day.

The McCollums have for many years been good friends with David McAfee who had come from local farming and dairy background but had pursued a business in property development. David had always had a keen interest though in Holstein breeding and had himself registered cattle under the Glamour prefix, and was particularly excited about the prospect and opportunities that the introduction of genomics could bring. Some twelve or so years ago David and Morrell decided to embark on a breeding partnership, initially to purchase some embryos from the USA with the aim to breed bulls carrying the 'Boghill Glamour' prefix that would have an impact throughout the Holstein breed whilst putting together the highest genomic herd in the UK, hoping to help mould the Holstein breed for generations to come. They were looking for a cow family that could breed high index, high components yet still maintain very good type. Together with the help of his long time friend Gary Housner of Bo-Irish Holsteins in Wisconsin, David purchased embryos from the Cosmopolitan family which led to the arrival of the Numero Uno daughter Glamour Carlin. The rest, as they say, is history. Over the next decade Carlin has created a dynasty of her own that could be argued is unrivalled in the breed. The initial idea of breed leading index in combination with type and production could not have been fulfilled any better and by David and Morrell's own admission has far surpassed even their wildest dreams. Their only wish left now is that these cattle they offer for sale go on to bring the same rewards and heights of achievement to their new owners. When you look through this catalogue and consider the opportunities this sale presents we think there is little doubt that this hope will also be fulfilled.

Herd Management

When you consider the genetic merit of the herd, which can be counted on a global scale, it must be taken into account the environment in which they reside. This is a hard working herd, set in a commercial facility in an area where it is not possible to push for extreme production. It cannot be emphasised enough that there is enormous scope for increased yield. All of the milkers reside in the herd with none given special individual treatment.

The herd are all housed in cubicles and milked twice daily. Feeding consists of a simple TMR of grass and whole crop silage together with concentrates. There is no parlour or out-of-parlour individual feeding. The resulting milk yields pay testimony to the breeding together with the level of farm management, with a current rolling herd average of 10309kg 4.65 fat 3.41 protein, SCC121. Today the cows are currently yielding 35kg/head, 4.71fat 3.44 protein which when you consider the majority of the herd is made up of first lactation heifers becomes even more impressive.

Morrell, Edith & David would very much like to take this opportunity to thank herdsmen Harold & David for their hard work and care of the herd. Both have dedicated much, if not all, of their working lives at Boghill and can take great credit in the achievements of the herd. They would also like to give special mention and sincere thanks to Tom Kilpatrick of Kilpatrick ET Services. Tom has been an integral part of the herds development throughout the last decade.
